Note details

1. Purpose and summary

This note sets out the live credit pipeline for the week commencing 6 October 2026. It records the stage of each transaction, the proposed limit, the lead analyst and the next step, so that the Investment Committee and Portfolio Management can plan capacity and sequence papers for the coming weeks.

There are ten transactions in the pipeline. Five are at screening, three are at approval and two are variations to existing facilities. The five screening deals total A$505.0M of proposed limits and the three approval deals total A$447.0M, giving A$952.0M of proposed new facilities. The two variations add a further A$40.0M of incremental commitment, being the Pinnacle Early Learning upsize, while the Calder Hills extension carries no additional limit.

- Approval stage: Banksia Health (A$210.0M), Riverbank Quarter (A$185.0M) and Precinct Land Co (A$52.0M) are the priority papers for this week and next.
- Screening stage: five new opportunities require initial credit views, with Pinnacle Education Group (A$140.0M) and Aldgate Logistics (A$120.0M) the largest.
- Variations: Calder Hills (six-month extension of the A$62.0M facility) and Pinnacle Early Learning (A$40.0M upsize to A$125.0M) both require committee consideration.

2. Pipeline at a glance

The table below lists every transaction currently held by the credit team. Limits are in A$ millions. For variations, the limit shown is the facility amount under consideration: the Calder Hills figure is the existing facility, which is being extended in time only, and the Pinnacle Early Learning figure is the incremental upsize.

Deal	Stage	Limit (A$M)	Analyst	Next step
Banksia Health	Approval	210.0	Priya Keane	Final IC paper and legal review
Riverbank Quarter	Approval	185.0	Daniel Mansfield	QS and construction monitoring sign-off
Precinct Land Co	Approval	52.0	Daniel Mansfield	Valuation review, then IC paper
Pinnacle Early Learning	Variation	40.0 (to 125.0)	James Hartigan	Upsize paper and covenant reset
Calder Hills	Variation	62.0	Sarah Beaumont	Extension paper and fee terms
Pinnacle Education Group	Screening	140.0	Tom Whitlock	Initial credit view and term sheet scope
Aldgate Logistics	Screening	120.0	Tom Whitlock	Request for financials and site information
Parkline Developments	Screening	96.0	Mei Lin Chau	Sponsor meeting and feasibility review
Aldgate Property Group	Screening	84.0	Sarah Beaumont	Screening memo to credit lead
Harbour Point	Screening	65.0	Mei Lin Chau	Land and civils scope review

Table 1: Pipeline by stage, limit, analyst and next step, week of 6 October 2026

Table 2 summarises the pipeline by stage. The variation line shows only the incremental commitment, because the Calder Hills extension does not change the limit.

Stage	Deals	Limit (A$M)
Approval	3	447.0
Screening	5	505.0
Variation (incremental only)	2	40.0
Total	10	992.0

3. Approval stage

3.1 Banksia Health, A$210.0M acquisition term loan

Banksia Health is the largest transaction in the pipeline. The facility is an acquisition term loan, and the paper is in final drafting. Priya Keane is completing the financial analysis and the sponsor equity confirmation. Legal counsel is reviewing the draft facility terms against the term sheet, and any departures will be flagged in the committee paper. The next step is submission of the final paper and legal review summary to the Investment Committee.

3.2 Riverbank Quarter, A$185.0M construction facility

Riverbank Quarter is a construction facility, so the paper depends on third party reports. Daniel Mansfield is waiting on the quantity surveyor's cost review and the construction monitoring scope. The committee paper will not be released until both are received and reconciled to the sponsor's budget. The next step is sign-off of the quantity surveyor and monitoring reports, followed by finalisation of the paper.

3.3 Precinct Land Co, A$52.0M

Precinct Land Co is the smallest approval stage deal. Daniel Mansfield is reviewing the independent valuation and testing the assumptions against comparable evidence. The paper will follow once the valuation review is complete. Because Daniel Mansfield is the lead analyst on both Riverbank Quarter and Precinct Land Co, the two papers have been sequenced so that Riverbank Quarter is not delayed.

4. Screening stage

Five transactions are at screening. At this stage the team is deciding whether each opportunity merits the cost of full diligence. No commitments or indicative pricing have been given on any of them.

Deal	Limit (A$M)	Analyst	Screening focus
Pinnacle Education Group	140.0	Tom Whitlock	Cash flow profile and sponsor track record
Aldgate Logistics	120.0	Tom Whitlock	Term loan serviceability and asset base
Parkline Developments	96.0	Mei Lin Chau	Project feasibility and presales
Aldgate Property Group	84.0	Sarah Beaumont	Portfolio quality and leverage
Harbour Point	65.0	Mei Lin Chau	Land value and civils cost certainty

Table 3: Screening stage deals and focus areas

Each screening memo is expected to give a clear recommendation to proceed, hold or decline. Where the team recommends proceeding, the memo should identify the main diligence workstreams and the likely third party costs. Harbour Point is a land and civils facility, and Parkline Developments is a development exposure, so Mei Lin Chau will apply a consistent view of land value, cost to complete and presales across both while keeping the assessments separate.

5. Variations to existing facilities

5.1 Calder Hills, six-month extension of the A$62.0M facility

Calder Hills has requested a six-month extension to the maturity of its A$62.0M facility. The limit is unchanged. Sarah Beaumont is preparing the extension paper, which will cover the reasons for the request, current performance against covenants, the status of the security and the proposed extension fee. The next step is to settle the fee terms with Portfolio Management and submit the paper.

5.2 Pinnacle Early Learning, A$40.0M upsize to A$125.0M

Pinnacle Early Learning has asked for an upsize of A$40.0M, which would take the facility from A$85.0M to A$125.0M. James Hartigan is preparing the paper, including a review of whether the existing covenant package remains suitable at the higher quantum. The next step is to finalise the covenant reset proposal and submit the paper to the Investment Committee.

6. Naming and information protocol

Several names in the pipeline are similar. To avoid errors in papers, data rooms and correspondence, the following applies.

- Aldgate Property Group and Aldgate Logistics are unrelated entities. They have no common ownership or sponsor relationship and must not be cross-referenced in any credit paper, exposure aggregation, correspondence or data room.

- Pinnacle Education Group is unrelated to the existing Pinnacle Early Learning facility. The Pinnacle Early Learning upsize paper must not draw on Pinnacle Education Group information, and the Pinnacle Education Group screening memo must not rely on the performance of the existing facility.
- The two Aldgate transactions and the two Pinnacle transactions are assigned to different analysts so that each file is handled independently.
- Analysts should use the full legal entity name in the first reference in any document and confirm the ABN before circulating a paper.

Legal and Compliance will be asked to confirm that the counterparty records for these names are correctly separated in the credit system. Any sign of a genuine relationship should be raised with the head of credit immediately rather than resolved informally.

7. Analyst allocation

Table 4 shows the allocation of work across the team. Priya Keane and James Hartigan each hold one transaction. Mei Lin Chau, Tom Whitlock, Daniel Mansfield and Sarah Beaumont each hold two.

Analyst	Deals	Deals held
Priya Keane	1	Banksia Health
Daniel Mansfield	2	Riverbank Quarter, Precinct Land Co
James Hartigan	1	Pinnacle Early Learning
Sarah Beaumont	2	Calder Hills, Aldgate Property Group
Tom Whitlock	2	Pinnacle Education Group, Aldgate Logistics
Mei Lin Chau	2	Parkline Developments, Harbour Point

Table 4: Analyst allocation

The main capacity pressure this week is on Daniel Mansfield, who holds two approval stage papers. If the quantity surveyor's report for Riverbank Quarter is delayed, Precinct Land Co will be prioritised so that the committee agenda is not left light. Priya Keane has capacity to review the Precinct Land Co valuation if needed.

8. Actions for the week

- Priya Keane: submit the Banksia Health paper and legal review summary to the Investment Committee secretary.
- Daniel Mansfield: obtain the quantity surveyor and monitoring sign-off for Riverbank Quarter and complete the Precinct Land Co valuation review.
- Sarah Beaumont: agree the extension fee terms for Calder Hills and send the Aldgate Property Group screening memo to the credit lead.
- James Hartigan: finalise the covenant reset proposal for the Pinnacle Early Learning upsize.
- Tom Whitlock: issue information requests for Aldgate Logistics and complete the initial credit view on Pinnacle Education Group.
- Mei Lin Chau: hold the sponsor meeting for Parkline Developments and complete the scope review for Harbour Point.
- Credit lead: confirm committee dates for the three approval papers and the two variations.

Updates and changes to stage or limit should be sent to the credit team lead by close of business each Thursday so that the next weekly note reflects the correct position.
