Document details

1. Purpose and basis of preparation

This profile introduces Coolabah Infrastructure Partners (Coolabah) to Quillwood Credit Partners as prospective lender on the acquisition by Banksia Health Group Pty Ltd (Banksia) of six residential aged care homes from Seabreeze Care. It describes Coolabah, the fund that owns Banksia, the fund's capacity to provide the equity for this transaction, the track record of the fund's investments, Banksia's operating history under Coolabah ownership, and the people responsible.

This document was prepared by Coolabah. It is not an independent report. All figures in it are Coolabah's own, drawn from fund records, Banksia management accounts and Coolabah's valuations at 30 June 2026, and have not been audited or verified by a third party for the purposes of this document. Gross multiples are stated before management fees, carried interest and fund expenses. Banksia EBITDA is stated before the effect of AASB 16. Lenders should rely on the financial due diligence, valuation and legal reports commissioned for the transaction, and on their own analysis, in preference to this profile where the two differ.

2. Executive summary

- Coolabah is a Sydney based mid-market private equity manager investing in social infrastructure: aged care, healthcare and education. It manages A$2.1B of funds.
- Banksia is held in Coolabah Social Infrastructure Fund II (Fund II), a 2018 vintage fund with A$1.15B of commitments. Coolabah acquired Banksia in 2019 with 11 homes and has grown it to 18 homes and 1,720 beds.
- Fund II will provide the A$102.0M equity contribution from uncalled commitments, which were A$214.0M at 30 June 2026. Coolabah's investment committee approved the commitment on 8 September 2026. Uncalled commitments cover the equity about 2.1 times. Fund II has no fund-level debt and a A$60.0M subscription line.
- Of six investments in the track record, three are realised at gross multiples of 2.4x, 1.9x and 1.6x. Three are unrealised: Banksia at 1.5x, an education investment at 1.3x and a regional private hospital operator at 0.7x. The hospital operator was written down by 40% in 2023 after a regulator review. Section 5 deals with this directly.
- Banksia reported FY25 EBITDA of A$51.2M, up from A$29.8M in FY21. Group occupancy rose from 86.9% to 93.4% over the same period. Part of the EBITDA growth came from acquired homes, not only from existing homes.
- The acquisition takes Banksia from 18 to 24 homes and from 1,720 to 2,362 beds. Coolabah's working pro forma EBITDA for the combined group is A$71.0M after normalisations of A$2.6M for Banksia and A$2.7M for Seabreeze.

3. Coolabah Infrastructure Partners

3.1 Firm and strategy

Coolabah is a Sydney mid-market private equity manager. It invests in businesses that deliver services with long-lived physical assets and regulated or government-linked revenue, across aged care, healthcare and education. Its funds under management are A$2.1B. It typically takes control or significant influence, holds investments for five to eight years, and focuses on operational improvement, selective bolt-on acquisition and capital spending on facilities in preference to financial engineering.

Coolabah has invested in three sectors for more than a decade, and its investment team has worked together through the introduction of the Aged Care Quality Standards and, from 1 November 2025, the new Aged Care Act. Coolabah's view is that larger operators with strong compliance records, regional density and good access to referral sources are best placed under the new regime. The Banksia strategy was built on that view.

3.2 Investment process

Each investment is approved by Coolabah's investment committee, chaired by the Managing Partner. Follow-on investments in existing portfolio companies, including this acquisition, go through the same committee process as new investments. The committee reviews commercial, financial, legal and regulatory due diligence, including a review of the target's compliance history. Portfolio companies report monthly to Coolabah, and a Coolabah partner and a principal sit on each portfolio company board.

4. Fund II and the equity commitment

4.1 Fund financial summary

Fund II was established in 2018 with A$1.15B of commitments. Its investment period runs to 2026. The fund's constituent documents permit follow-on investment in existing portfolio companies, and the Banksia acquisition is such an investment. The table below summarises the fund at 30 June 2026.

Item	A$M
Total commitments	1,150.0
Called commitments	936.0
Uncalled commitments	214.0
Net asset value (NAV)	1,046.0
Fund-level debt	Nil
Subscription line (undrawn)	60.0

Table 1. Fund II financial summary at 30 June 2026 (Coolabah figures, unaudited)

Called commitments represent 81.4% of total commitments. The fund carries no borrowings at fund level. The A$60.0M subscription line is undrawn and is used for short-term timing between capital calls and settlement. Coolabah does not intend to use it to fund the equity contribution for this transaction, and lenders should not treat it as additional committed equity.

4.2 Funding of the A$102.0M equity

The A$102.0M equity contribution will be funded by a capital call on Fund II's limited partners. After the call, uncalled commitments would be A$112.0M. Coolabah's investment committee approved the commitment on 8 September 2026. The approval is subject to the terms of the acquisition and the debt financing being consistent with those presented to the committee.

Capital calls are subject to the limited partners meeting their obligations. Coolabah has not experienced a default on a capital call in Fund II. Uncalled commitments are not ring-fenced for Banksia, and the remaining A$112.0M is available for fees, expenses and the follow-on needs of other portfolio companies.

Sources	A$M	Uses	A$M
Senior term loan	210.0	Purchase price	298.0
Fund II equity	102.0	Transaction costs	14.0
Total sources	312.0	Total uses	312.0

Table 2. Sources and uses of funds (Coolabah figures)

Equity represents 32.7% of total funding. Transaction costs of A$14.0M include the lender establishment fee, stamp duty, advisory fees and other acquisition costs.

5. Track record

Table 3 lists six investments made by Coolabah funds in the social infrastructure sectors. The three investments from 2014 to 2016 were made by Coolabah's earlier fund. The three from 2018 onwards were made by Fund II. Multiples are gross, before fees and carried interest. Multiples for unrealised investments are based on Coolabah's valuations at 30 June 2026 and may differ from the amounts eventually realised.

Investment	Entry to exit	Equity (A$M)	Gross multiple	Status
Medical centre group	2015 to 2021	78.0	2.4x	Realised
Childcare group	2014 to 2019	54.0	1.9x	Realised
Disability housing provider	2016 to 2022	62.0	1.6x	Realised
Banksia Health Group	2019 to date	168.0	1.5x	Unrealised
Education provider	2021 to date	85.0	1.3x	Unrealised
Regional private hospital operator	2018 to date	96.0	0.7x	Unrealised, written down

Table 3. Investment track record (Coolabah figures, gross of fees and carry)

The three realised investments returned A$389.0M on A$194.0M of equity, a combined gross multiple of 2.0x. The three unrealised investments are carried at A$429.7M on A$349.0M of equity invested, 1.2x. Across all six investments, A$543.0M of equity has been invested at a combined gross multiple of 1.5x. The Banksia equity figure of A$168.0M includes the original 2019 investment and follow-on equity used for bolt-on acquisitions and refurbishment.

5.1 Regional private hospital operator

Coolabah wrote down its investment in a regional private hospital operator by 40% in 2023. The write-down followed a review by a regulator that identified deficiencies in the operator's clinical governance. The review led to conditions on the operator's accreditation, a fall in admissions and a deterioration in earnings. The investment is carried at 0.7x gross at 30 June 2026 and remains unrealised. Coolabah may not recover its invested equity in full.

This is the one investment in the track record where a regulatory finding directly damaged value, and it is relevant to a lender in aged care, where regulatory standing is central to credit quality. Since the review, Coolabah has required each portfolio company in a regulated sector to report to its board on clinical and compliance indicators every month, to maintain a board committee for clinical governance chaired by an independent director, and to commission an independent compliance review before any acquisition. These requirements apply at Banksia and will apply to the six Seabreeze homes. They are Coolabah policies, and they do not remove the underlying risk.

6. Banksia under Coolabah ownership

6.1 Operating history

Coolabah acquired Banksia in 2019 with 11 homes. The group now operates 18 homes with 1,720 beds in New South Wales, Victoria and Queensland. Growth came through bolt-on acquisitions together with an organic programme of refurbishment and occupancy improvement. Table 4 sets out group occupancy, reported EBITDA and refurbishment capital spending for FY21 to FY25.

Year	Homes	Occupancy	EBITDA (A$M)	Refurbishment (A$M)
FY21	13	86.9%	29.8	4.1
FY22	15	88.4%	33.5	5.3
FY23	17	90.7%	39.9	7.8
FY24	18	92.2%	46.1	9.6
FY25	18	93.4%	51.2	8.2

Table 4. Banksia operating history, FY21 to FY25 (Banksia management accounts, EBITDA pre-AASB 16, homes at year end)

Reported EBITDA rose from A$29.8M in FY21 to A$51.2M in FY25, a compound annual growth rate of 14.5%. Two homes were acquired in FY22 and FY23 and contributed to that growth, so the increase cannot be read as like-for-like. Coolabah has not presented a like-for-like series in this document. Occupancy is measured across the whole group in each year, and the rise to 93.4% includes the effect of lifting occupancy at acquired homes after purchase.

FY25 reported EBITDA of A$51.2M includes a non-recurring government grant of A$2.6M. Excluding it, normalised FY25 EBITDA is A$48.6M. Lenders should use the normalised figure when assessing earnings capacity, and Coolabah has done so in its pro forma analysis.

Over the five years Banksia spent A$35.0M on refurbishment of existing homes, covering room upgrades, common areas and building services. Spending peaked at A$9.6M in FY24. Coolabah attributes part of the occupancy improvement to this programme, although it has not isolated the effect from other factors, including the national recovery in occupancy to 90.6%, the highest since 2019.

6.2 Refundable accommodation deposits

Banksia and the Seabreeze homes together are expected to hold about A$412.0M of refundable accommodation deposits (RADs) after completion. RADs are repayable when a resident leaves, usually within 14 days, and can be withdrawn at short notice if confidence in an operator falls. Coolabah recognises this as the principal liquidity exposure of the business and the reason regulatory standing matters. Banksia has met every RAD refund when due since Coolabah acquired it.

7. The acquisition

7.1 Transaction

Banksia has agreed to acquire six freehold homes from Seabreeze Care on the NSW Central Coast and in the Hunter for A$298.0M. The homes are at Terrigal, Erina, Toukley, Charlestown, Maitland and Cessnock, and have 642 beds in total. The acquisition takes Banksia to 24 homes and 2,362 beds. Banksia already operates four homes in the Central Coast and Hunter, which supports management oversight, rostering and procurement.

Measure	Banksia	Seabreeze	Combined
Homes	18	6	24
Beds	1,720	642	2,362
FY25 occupancy	93.4%	88.1%	92.0%
Reported EBITDA (A$M)	51.2	25.1	76.3
Normalisations (A$M)	(2.6)	(2.7)	(5.3)
Normalised EBITDA (A$M)	48.6	22.4	71.0

Table 5. Combined group, FY25 (Coolabah pro forma, before synergies)

The Seabreeze normalisations comprise A$1.4M of owner salaries and related-party costs and A$1.3M of one-off agency staff credit. Pro forma net debt is A$214.8M, made up of the A$210.0M term loan and A$18.0M of existing equipment finance, less estimated cash at completion of A$13.2M. That is 3.03 times pro forma EBITDA. Coolabah's pro forma has not been independently verified at the date of this profile, and the financial due diligence being completed for lenders will supersede it.

7.2 Investment case

- Regional density in the Central Coast and Hunter, supported by referral relationships with local hospitals.
- Lifting Seabreeze occupancy from 88.1% towards 92% by the end of FY27, which is Coolabah's assumption and not a forecast that Seabreeze has delivered.
- Moving the Seabreeze homes onto Banksia's rostering and procurement systems within twelve months.
- Reducing reliance on agency nurses, which supplied 11% of care hours at Seabreeze in FY25 against 4% at Banksia.
- Refurbishing 96 rooms over FY27 to support occupancy and accommodation pricing.

The pro forma EBITDA of A$71.0M does not include synergies. Coolabah's financial model assumes savings from lower agency use and procurement, but Coolabah does not ask lenders to rely on them, and Section 9 notes that delivery depends on staffing.

8. Key people

The people below are responsible for the investment at Coolabah and for management of Banksia. Coolabah has not changed the Banksia executive team in connection with the acquisition.

Name	Role	Organisation
Andrew Corbett	Managing Partner; chair, investment committee	Coolabah
Priya Merriman	Partner, head of aged care; Banksia director	Coolabah
Mei-Lin Tran	Principal; Banksia director; deal lead	Coolabah
Daniel Whitford	Chief Financial Officer; fund administration	Coolabah
Rob Hallinan	Chief Executive Officer	Banksia
Sarah Okonkwo	Chief Financial Officer	Banksia
Dr Fiona McAllister	Chief Clinical Officer	Banksia

Table 6. Key people

Priya Merriman has led Coolabah's aged care investments since the acquisition of Banksia in 2019. Mei-Lin Tran has led the Seabreeze transaction. Dr McAllister reports to the Banksia board on clinical governance and chairs the board's clinical governance committee together with an independent director.

9. Matters for lenders to consider

This section is Coolabah's own summary of matters that lenders should weigh. It is not exhaustive.

- Regulatory standing. The write-down on the regional hospital operator shows that a regulatory finding can reduce enterprise value quickly. Toukley and Cessnock received compliance notices in FY24, which Coolabah understands have been closed, and Coolabah has commissioned an independent compliance review of all six homes.
- RAD liquidity. RADs of about A$412.0M are repayable at short notice. The combined group's largest net quarterly RAD outflow in the FY23 to FY25 period was A$6.8M, but past experience may not predict behaviour under stress.
- Agency staffing. Integration savings depend on reducing agency use at Seabreeze from 11% of care hours. Labour costs remain the main pressure on sector margins.
- Occupancy. Seabreeze occupancy of 88.1% is below Banksia's. The pro forma depends on Banksia lifting it, and property values are sensitive to occupancy.
- Integration. Adding six homes and 642 beds to an 18 home group is the largest acquisition Banksia has undertaken. Coolabah believes the management team can manage it, but the risk is real.
- Sponsor support. Coolabah's support is the A$102.0M equity from Fund II. Coolabah is not providing a guarantee and has not agreed to any equity cure or further funding commitment. Any such terms would be for negotiation.
- Fund timing. Fund II's investment period runs to 2026. Coolabah expects the investment to be held beyond the investment period, with the fund's term and any extension governed by the limited partnership agreement.

10. Next steps

Coolabah will provide Quillwood Credit Partners with access to the Banksia management team, the Fund II investment committee approval and the capital call arrangements. It will also provide the financial due diligence report, the lender-addressed valuation and the compliance review once complete. Coolabah would welcome a meeting with Quillwood Credit Partners' credit team before its investment committee considers the facility.
